

Republican Party

In Wall Street and NBC News polling, the share of the party held by white voters with a college education dropped from 40% to 25% over the last decade or so — still a significant faction but less influential.

Wall Street Journal, January 20-21, 2024