

Republicans say

Allowing employers to force employees to give up their right to join class action suits against them is change we believe in