

Republicans say

Let financial institutions fuck consumers and students without accountability

The deep story of attempts by Republicans like Jeb Hensarling to weaken the Consumer Financial Protection Board, the only government agency whose purpose is to protect people from financial predators and the only one where people can register a complaint and track and view all complaints online