

Republicans say

So what if Donald Trump

stiffs contractors who work for him | uses only offshore manufacturers | hires undocumented immigrants | is a "business genius" who's had six bankruptcies and was bailed out by banks | bans some news networks from his events | encourages libel suits against journalists | is only suddenly pro-life | claims to read the Bible but can't name his favorite verse | is not an active member of any church | is among the least charitable billionaires ever | uses his foundation's money to buy things for himself and make political contributions | is a fear mongerer | thinks saying things again and again makes them true | humiliates prominent Republicans | is lowering support for us among groups our survival depends upon | is killing our downballot chances?

He's for cutting taxes on the rich and packing the Court with right wingers
WHICH IS ALL THAT MATTERS
