

Rural America

Rural communities
are places of moral obligation.
Residents can live there and be so independent that they rarely speak to anyone else.
But if they do live that way,
they are treated as outsiders.

Robert Wuthnow, *The Left Behind