

Same-sex marriage

If you look at other nations that have gone down the road towards gay marriage, that's the next step of where it gets enforced. It gets enforced against Christian pastors who decline to perform gay marriages, who speak out and preach biblical truths that have been defined elsewhere as hate speech, as inconsistent with the enlightened view of government. I think the advocates that are driving this effort in the United States want to see us end up in that same place.

Ted Cruz