

Separation of powers

Is there a person in America who thinks Missouri is here because it is worried about MOHELA's loss of loan-servicing fees?

I would like to meet him.

Missouri is here because it thinks the Secretary's loan cancellation plan makes for terrible, inequitable, wasteful policy.

And so too for Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, and South Carolina.

And maybe all of them are right.

But that question is not what this Court sits to decide.

That question is "more appropriately addressed in the representative branches," and by the broader public.

Elena Kagan, dissent in Biden v. Nebraska, et. al.