

Snapshot

They [the victims] stood up for me.
I forgive the prosecutor. He wrote a letter.
And the parole board? They saw that justice happened. But I don't forgive Mike Pence, and never will.
He talks all this God stuff, but he's biased.
He hates Muslims, he hates gay people, and he hates minorities. He didn't want to be the first white man in Indiana to pardon an innocent black man.

Mike Pence
portrayed by Keith Cooper who then-Governor Pence refused to pardon after having been released because of new DNA evidence, recantations by victims and witnesses, and recommendations to do so by the prosecutor and Indiana Parole Board