

Snapshot

I seldom feel sorry for President Trump – O.K., I never do – but if I were going to it would be on account of his spawn and spawn-in-law. He has given them celebrity, fancy government titles, security clearances and entry into circles they'd never penetrate otherwise. They have given him humiliating headlines to go along with the mortifying ones that he already had in abundance. Talk about a trade imbalance.

Donald Trump
portrayed by Frank Bruni