

Supreme Court

A system of government that makes the people subordinate to a committee of nine unelected lawyers does not deserve to be called a democracy.

Antonin Scalia