

The tech bro's I Have a Dream Speech

I was the middleman.

I made money off the platform.

I used contract workers and their assets.

I offered no benefits, no guaranteed pay.

I made them liable for insurance claims.

I automated to minimize employees.

I ignored local laws & governments.

I ran ads featuring smiling people.

I danced the I'm-a-job-creator jig.

I raised billions from investors.

I ignored user's privacy rights.

I hired tax avoidance lawyers.

I hired Washington insiders.

I put money in tax havens.

I dug up dirt on my critics.

I whooped, "Struck it rich, struck it rich,

Thank God Almighty, I struck it rich."
