

Trumpists say

Before the IRS took it down yesterday, there was a posting — watch this. On their website that listed the requirements for a special agent's position the major duties require the agents to quote, "carry a firearm and be willing to use deadly force, if necessary."

A little like James Bond, but instead of hunting down evil maniacs, these agents hunt down and kill middle class taxpayers that don't pay enough. It's Joe Biden's new army.

Bran Kilmeade, August 11, 2022, as Tucker Carlson's fill-in host, commenting on plans to restore IRS funding to 2013 levels over 10 years as part of the Inflation Reduction Act

[The ad was for criminal investigators who investigate financial fraud by criminals, not for auditors. The special skill needed is to be an accountant able to identify financial fraud.]