

Trumpists say

There's a lot of developments yet to come, but I do believe the Supreme Court should step in, obviously, This is totally unprecedented. And it's dangerius to our system. ... This is dimishing the American people's faith in our system of justice itself ... I think that the justices on the court — I know many of them personally — I think they're deeply concerned about that as we are. So I think they'll set this straight, but it's going to take awhile.

Mike Johnson, to Fox & Friends, May 30, 2024, expecting Trump's Supreme Court to overturn a New York jury that unanimously convicted Trump of committing 34 felonies to win election