

Trumpists say

Well, it seems to me that being elected by the Electoral College is a threshold where a title like that is probably most appropriate, and it's, I suppose you can say official, if there is such a thing as official president-elect, or anything-else-elect.

Kevin Cramer,
Republican Senator from North Dacovid, who would rather make an ass of himself than call Joe Biden "president-elect"