

Trumpists say

When you look at a pardon, the issue is less about guilt and more about what's good for the country.

And I think it would be terrible for the country to have a former president in prison for years because of a documents case.

So I would be inclined to favor a pardon [of Trump if he's convicted of mishandling classified documents].

Nikki Haley, after saying the DOJ's indictment of Trump for mishandling classified documents, if true, shows he was "incredibly reckless with our national security" and put "all of our military men and women in danger"