

Trumpists say

You are living in territory controlled by enemy tribes. You, and all like you, must assume the innocence of anyone remotely like yourself who is charged in any confrontation with those tribes and with their authorities – until proven otherwise beyond a shadow of your doubt. Take his side. In other words, you must shield others like yourself by practicing and urging “jury nullification.”

And, by the way, when the police – a fortiori the FBI – come to talk, you don't know or remember anything – except that they answer to your enemies. Don't be a good German.
