

Voting

You want to limit who can vote.
You want to limit what they can vote for.
You want to expand your power over voting in every way you can.

Ellen Bravo,
an activist for working women, explaining why voter suppression goes hand-in-hand with preemption, by which state governments limit issues local governments can address in their laws
