

War

In our heart of hearts believing
Victory crowns the just,
And the braggarts must
Surely bite the dust,
Press we to the field ungrieving,
In our heart of hearts believing
Victory crowns the just.

Thomas Hardy,
"Men Who March Away"