

War

War used to end
by defeating the enemy's army,
now war ends
by defeating the enemy's people.
None of us knew that before this war,
and we had to learn it for the first time.

Erich Ludendorff,
German general during World War I